The House Passes Bills Changing Revised Statutes.

THE RIVER AND HARBOR BILL.

The Indian Tradership Investigation—The Widow Hunter Pension Bill Garland to Surrender His Telephone Stock

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—Lowry of Indiana from the committee on expenditures in the treasury department reported back the resolution calling for information from the secretary of the treasury as to the reason for the failure to investigate the charges of fraud against R D Lancaster, the present surveyor of the port of St Louis.

O'Neill of Missouri said that so far as Lancaster was concerned he had at all times courted the fullest investigation and that the judgment of the people of St Louis was that the official had been guilty of no intentional fraud.

Glover of Missouri said that so far from Lancaster desiring an investigation he had refused to make affidavit purging himself of fraud [illegible] that the house might well surmise.

Lowry hoped that the resolution would be agreed to and pour oil upon the troubled waters of [illegible]. The resolution was adopted.

On motion of Ryan of Kansas the senate bill was passed authorizing the secretary of war to credit the state of Kansas with a certain sum [illegible] with the general government.

The house then resumed consideration of the [illegible] amendments to the legislative appropriation bill. The senate amendment relative to the [illegible] of the report of the [illegible] was [illegible] with the amendment reported from the [illegible] the appropriations for publication of papers relating to the case of Fitz John Porter. [illegible] consideration of the [illegible] was asked [illegible] the amendments which had not been concurred in.

AMENDING THE REVISED STATUTES.

The time [illegible] accorded to the committee [illegible] Hurd [illegible] called up the bill amending [illegible] revised statutes. It substitutes for [illegible] the following:

Section [illegible]. All manufactured tobacco shall be put up and prepared by the manufacturer in packages of the following description and in no other manner: All snuff in packages containing one half, one, two, three, four, six, eight and sixteen ounces, or in bladders and in jars not exceeding twenty pounds. All cut and granulated tobaccos, all refuse clippings, cuttings, shorts and sweepings of tobacco in packages containing one, two, three, four, eight and sixteen ounces each, except that fine cut tobacco may be put up in bulk in pails containing ten pounds each. All cavendish, plug and twist tobacco in packages not exceeding 200 pounds weight, and every such package shall have printed or marked thereon the manufacturer's name and place of manufacture, the registered number of the manufactory and the gross weight, tare and net weight of the tobacco in every package. Provided that these limitations and descriptions of packages shall not apply to tobacco and snuff transported in bond for exportation and actually exported, and provided further that fine cut shorts, refuse scraps, clippings, cuttings and sweepings of tobacco may be sold in bulk as material and without payment of tax by one manufacturer directly to another manufacturer or for export under such restrictions, rules and regulations as the commissioner of internal revenue may prescribe, and provided further that wood, metal, paper or other materials may be used separately or in combination for packing tobacco, snuff and cigars under such regulations as the commissioner of internal revenue may establish.

Section [illegible] is made to read as follows: No manufactured tobacco shall be sold or offered for sale unless put up in packages and stamped as prescribed in this chapter, except as sold by retail dealers from packages stamped as provided in this chapter, and every person who sells or offers for sale any snuff or any kind of manufactured tobacco not so put up in packages and stamped shall be liable to a fine of not less than $[illegible]00 nor more than $5000 or to imprisonment for not less than six months nor more than two years.

The bill was passed.

VARIOUS CHANGES PROPOSED.

Breckinridge of Kentucky called up the bill repealing section [illegible] of the revised statutes providing for the appointment of an inspector of tobacco and cigars and providing for inspection of tobacco, cigars and snuff. It provides that manufactured tobacco, cigars and snuff may be removed for export to foreign countries without payment of tax under such regulations and on the making of such entries and the filing of such bonds and bills of lading as the commissioner of internal revenue with the approval of the secretary of the treasury shall prescribe. The bill was passed.

Hewitt called up the bill amending section [illegible] of the act to amend the statutes in relation to the immediate transportation of dutiable goods. Passed. By this bill the existing law is amended so as to permit merchandise to be carried by express companies in pouches as well as in safes and sealed in such manner as shall be prescribed by the secretary of the treasury, to be carried in ordinary cars instead of separate vehicles provided for the purpose. By the existing law passengers' baggage is not provided for. The proposed bill will permit such baggage and effects to be carried by express companies in the same manner as other merchandise may in accordance with the existing law be carried, and the provisions of existing laws are made applicable to routes which are bonded for both land and water carriage.

Kelley of Pennsylvania called up the bill amending the statutes in relation to the immediate transportation of dutiable goods. Passed. It amends the statutes so as to allow merchandise liable to specific rates of duty only to be entered for immediate transportation without appraisement to any of the ports mentioned in the seventh section of the act of June 10, 1880, although the same may not appear by invoice, bill of lading or manifest of the importing vessel to be consigned to or destined for either of said ports, when the consignee at the port of receipt shall make application therefor to the collector, giving the name of the person at the depot of destination to whom he desires the merchandise to be consigned.

Morrison called up and the house passed the bill repealing so much of section 3314 of the revised statutes as allows to collectors of internal revenue commissions on taxes collected on distilled spirits.

On motion of Morrison a bill was passed reducing to $[illegible] with an additional $[illegible] for each person employed in making cigars the amount of bond to be given by manufacturers of cigars.

THE SURPLUS RESOLUTION.

The house then went into committee of the whole on the joint resolution directing the payment of the surplus in the treasury on the public debt. The following is the text of the resolution: That whenever the surplus or balance in the treasury in excess of the amount held for redemption of United States notes shall exceed the sum of $100,000,000, it shall be and is hereby made the duty of the secretary of the treasury to apply such excess in sums of not less than $10,000,000 per month during the existence of such surplus to payment of interest-bearing indebtedness of the United States payable at the option of the government.

Morrison said counting the reserve of $100,000,000 there was still a surplus in the treasury of $[illegible]000,000. Of this amount $[illegible],000,000 was [not] available, being made up of fractional coin, so that all the money that would be reached under this resolution would be about $70,000,000. It would make productive that which was now unproductive [illegible]. It would do something towards making money a little cheaper. It would save the government something in interest, and more than that it would take away some of that temptation which led men to vote large appropriations and [illegible] improvident expenditures. He criticised the report of the minority and [illegible] the statement therein made that the effect of the resolution would be to shake public confidence. Morrison admitted that he could conceive that it might be that for a very short time the $[illegible] might possibly be [illegible] when there was $[illegible] in the treasury and [illegible] to meet [illegible] redemption fund might have to be drawn [illegible] but only for a very short time. He argued that $100,000,000 was a sufficient redemption fund and alluded to the fact that only $10,000,000 was in the treasury to enable the government to redeem national bank notes in case of the failure of a bank. [illegible] he denied that the purpose of the resolution was to place the country on a silver basis.

OPPOSITION BY HISCOCK.

Hiscock of New York offered an amendment providing that nothing in the resolution shall authorize the reduction or payment of any part of the $100,000,000 reserve set apart for payment of United States notes or the interest bearing indebtedness of the United States. He then proceeded to submit an argument in opposition to the resolution, declaring that it had been brought before the house by action of the democratic speaker, the democratic chairman of the ways and means committee and democratic chairman of the appropriation committee, against the most emphatic protest of the democratic administration. This was no disagreement on a mere matter of detail. The difference was as wide as that between two great political parties, and this was an attempt on the part of the leaders of the house to force payment of the national debt and obligations in silver, to force the government in its financial transactions to the silver basis, which the administration earnestly and determinedly resisted. This was a declaration that United States bonds should be payable in silver dollars, and the world would understand it. It was practically impossible to execute the joint resolution without using silver dollars—all of them possibly—because all of the surplus was in silver. He did not hesitate to say that it was repudiation. It was violation of the spirit of the law to pay the bonds in silver. They could not have been placed except on assurance on the part of the administration that they would be paid in gold. What had induced the democratic party to antagonize the administration which it had placed in power?

Morrison suggested in reply, that it was none of his (Hiscock's) business.

Mr Hiscock—Is that your only answer? Is that the only answer the democratic leaders advertise? That why they have departed from their administration is none of our business? That is quite [illegible] an expression which was used most infamously once in the city of New York. At best in adopting the pending resolution congress would be trying a very dangerous experiment—one that might bring disaster and ruin to the people, and one that the administration felt justified in advising against and opposing. On this question no one doubted the patriotism of the president and secretary of the treasury. Hiscock congratulated them for following so closely in the footsteps of their republican predecessors. On this great question President Cleveland was greater than the party which had elected him.

AMENDMENTS PROPOSED.

Warner of Ohio offered an amendment providing that whenever circulating notes of national banks are redeemed or canceled the secretary of the treasury shall cause to be issued in place of such notes United States notes as near as may be [of] the denomination of those canceled.

McKinley of Ohio offered as an amendment the following proviso: That the sum of $100,000,000 herein excepted and reserved, which amount was purchased by the sale of bonds to the extent of $[illegible]000,000 and the balance by reservation from the revenues under authority of act of January 14, 1875, entitled an act to provide for resumption of specie payments, shall remain retained as provided by said act and set apart for the purpose of redeeming legal tender notes of the United States when presented for payment, and said fund shall not be used for any other purpose.

Weaver of Iowa offered an amendment reducing the prescribed reserve to $[illegible]0,000,000.

Pending further discussion the committee rose and the house adjourned.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—The chair laid before the senate the resolution of the convention of republican editors of Ohio urging investigation of the charges of bribery in the election of Senator Payne. Referred to the committee on privileges and elections.

The senate resumed consideration of the river and harbor appropriation bill, the pending amendment being to strike out the provision to prevent the dumping of detritus from hydraulic mining in the Sacramento and Feather rivers, California. Stanford [illegible] proposed legislation as a [illegible] to prevent the filling up of the Sacramento river and bay of San Francisco. His amendment was to amend the provision by inserting the words "by water used through pipes and used therefrom under pressure," so that it would [illegible] legal proceedings to prevent the washing, [illegible], dumping or discharging of detritus from hydraulic mining by water used through pipes and forced through nozzles under pressure. [illegible] amendment was objected to.

On motion of Hearst the text was further amended by adding the words "and against mountain banks."

The [illegible] striking out the provision directing [illegible] to prevent the dumping of detritus. The provision was stricken out. Yeas [illegible], nays 11.

[illegible] amendment in the bill was [illegible] improvement of the [illegible] insert those reported by the committee [illegible]. The whole amount of [illegible] sections of the river [illegible].

On motion of [illegible] the words "to the substantial interests of navigation" were inserted in the section.

The amendment of the committee restricting the application of the section to hydraulic mining was agreed to.

Hale's motion to strike out the second section was postponed till after all committee amendments were disposed of. Most of the remaining amendments proposed by the committee were mere corrections of phraseology. They were all agreed to.

Hale renewed his motion to strike out section two and it was agreed to. Yeas [illegible], nays 14.

On motion of Conger a provision was inserted authorizing the secretary of war to establish harbor lines in places where they have not been established and also to establish lines within which deposits of material may be made without injury to navigation.

The bill being completed as in committee of the whole it was reported to the senate. Without action on the amendments the senate at midnight adjourned.

WASHINGTON NEWS ITEMS.

THE INDIAN TRADERSHIP INVESTIGATION.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—Charles A. Cleveland of Anadarko, Indian territory, Indian trader, was examined by the senate special committee investigating appointments to Indian traderships to-day. He stated under oath that some time prior to the expiration of his license M Jackson, brother of the judge, notified witness that he (Jackson) had been licensed to trade there. He promised to take witness into partnership, into which Jackson was to put his license while Cleveland was to furnish capital, experience and good will, in addition to doing all the work, the profits to be equally divided. Witness was told that if he did not acquiesce in the arrangement his right to trade would be taken away, Jackson claiming he had sufficient influence at Washington to bring this about. Witness decided to enter into the arrangement, and in the course of time he was informed by the commissioner through the agent at Anadarko that his license would not be extended beyond a fixed date then a few weeks distant. Witness came to Washington and laid the matter before Commissioner Atkins but did not succeed in getting the order of removal revoked. Witness closed his store on the date fixed and began removing his goods. He could not tell what the loss would prove to be but thought $8000. Further hearing was postponed until next Tuesday.

THE WIDOW HUNTER PENSION BILL.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—In the case of Mrs Maria Hunter, widow of Gen Hunter, for whose relief the house passed a bill granting a pension of $50 per month, which was vetoed by the president, Chairman Matson of the invalid pension committee presented a report to the house to-day in which he sustained the veto. He says the effect of the bill would be to give claimant $20 per month more than the sum allowed by the general law. It is not alleged that the widow needs any increase and the committee has rarely tolerated an increase of pensions of widows of officers. It is also true that claimant's application for the legal rate of pension has been allowed by the pension office.

The minority report signed by republican members of the committee requests the passage of the bill over the veto, holding that it has been the invariable practice to pension at the rate of $50 a month the widows of officers of rank similar to that held by Gen Hunter, that the president has signed a number of such bills during this session aside from the case of Gen Hunter, and that there is no reason for making an exception in this case.

FRIENDS OF GOODE AT WORK.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—Ex-Senator Johnston and Representatives Tucker, [illegible] and Trigg waited on the president this morning and urged the renomination of John Goode as solicitor general. They represented that Goode had [illegible] been [illegible] treated by the senate and was not given sufficient opportunity to refute the charges which led to his rejection. A member of the delegation [illegible] authority for the statement that the president, after listening to the [illegible], [illegible] that he had the case under consideration [illegible] not yet determined what course to pursue.

GARLAND TO SURRENDER STOCK.

WASHINGTON, July [illegible].—In a day or two it is [illegible] before he leaves on his summer trip, Attorney General Garland will hand back to Prof. Rogers his Pan-Electric stock certificate. The stock issued to Garland bore the nominal value of a million and a half dollars. At one time it had some market value, but to-day it is worth just the paper it is printed on and no more. It is never of any value to Garland, and has brought him nothing but trouble.

THE RIVER AND HARBOR BILL.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—There is an understanding that the senate [illegible] the river and harbor bill shall [illegible] will be [illegible] reduction [illegible] appropriation to a point somewhat below that of the house bill. This will have the effect of putting [illegible] conference [illegible] probably be [illegible] at a reduction of [illegible] per cent.

SENATE NOTES.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—Senator [illegible] submitted a proposed amendment to the sundry civil bill to appropriate $[illegible]00 for the purchase of a school and farm at the Carlisle Indian school.

Senator Sewell from the committee on military affairs reported favorably to-day Senator Teller's bill to appropriate $250,000 for the establishment and erection of a military post near Denver, Col.

NOMINATIONS.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—The president sent the following nominations to the senate to-day: David Turpie of Indianapolis to be United States attorney for the district of Indiana; John Lamb [illegible]; George C Munson to be assayer of the United States at Denver.

CRIMINAL CALENDAR.

CHARGED WITH STEALING TIMBER.

DETROIT, July 13.—A Mount Pleasant special to the Free Press says: Some of the most prominent business men of this place are in a great state of excitement over the fact that U S Marshal [illegible] is here serving papers in cases commenced for alleged trespasses upon government Indian lands. Cases have been commenced against several. The alleged trespass consists of thousands of dollars worth of valuable timber taken from the lands.

A LETTER FROM MR PARNELL.

Rioting in Ireland and England Seizure of an American Pleasure Yacht Francels Expulsion Policy

LONDON, July 13.—Michael McCartan (Parnellite) has been elected to parliament from South Down. He received [illegible] votes while Corbett (tory), his opponent, obtained 318 in a total vote [illegible] less than was polled at the last election.

D C Mallery (Parnellite) has been returned for the Birr division of King's county by a vote of [illegible] against [illegible] obtained by Capt Bernard (conservative). The same candidates contested the district at the last election, when the home rulers polled [illegible] more votes and the conservatives [illegible] more.

The tories to-day have captured South Dorset, where [illegible] defeated [illegible], and the [illegible] division of Hertfordshire, where H F [illegible] Davenport (conservative) defeated G [illegible] (Gladstonian).

Sir M Wilson (Gladstonian), candidate for Keighley, Yorkshire, has been defeated by Walter Morrison (unionist). [illegible]

The tories have won the southwest division of [illegible] and the [illegible] division of Devonshire, electing in the former district Col Makins, conservative, over [illegible] Rhodes, unionist, and Albert Spicer, Gladstonian, in [illegible] defeated Lewis M[illegible], unionist.

POLITICAL NOTES.

LONDON, July 13.—Lord Hartington has arrived in London. Lord Salisbury will return here on Friday and a conference with Lord Hartington will be held on Monday. An arrangement has been arrived at by which Lord Salisbury accepts Lord Hartington's home rule policy, which involves the maintenance of full powers of the imperial parliament. By this the powers conferred on local councils in Ireland are delegated, not surrendered, by parliament, which body reserves the right to control and revoke the action of the councils. The appointment of judges and local administration are centered in the imperial parliament.

Lord Hartington is still reluctant to join the conservative ministry, although he has pledged himself to support the coercive measures and general policy of the conservatives.

In Gladstonian circles confidence is expressed that the premier will resign. Gladstone will hold a conference with his colleagues on Saturday.

Parnellites say they never will accept Lord Hartington's scheme and will fight and wait until they have secured the passage of the full Gladstonian measure.

The totals of members elected at midnight are: Conservatives and unionists [illegible], Gladstonians 241.

At the regular fortnightly meeting of the national league to-day the treasurer announced that donations received from the United States for the parliamentary fund within the past two weeks amounted to $9000. Mr T M Healy in an address to the meeting said that although Irishmen were disappointed at the result of the elections they should not be despondent. The defeat, he said, was temporary. One million electors had written home rule on their polling papers as against the unholy existing triple alliance. A coercion government, Mr Healy contended, could not exist three months.

A LETTER BY PARNELL.

LONDON, July 13.—Parnell has written a letter in which he says: "The statements of Lord Hartington that the Irish party and the national league are in union with American fenians are untrue. I know nothing whatever of any fenian organization in Ireland or America beyond what I have learned from the newspapers. I have never had any communication with the leaders of such organizations or accepted any alliance with them. I do not even know who the leaders are. No union of the national league and fenians has ever been proposed. If such a proposal had ever been made I should never have consented. I have always successfully endeavored to keep the national league within the strictest bounds of legality. In spite of the unblushing falsehoods which have partially and temporarily frustrated the moderate aspirations of Ireland, the Irish people will continue to maintain an open, public and legal agitation, declining to give any pretext to Lord Hartington or his tory allies to resort to the brutalities of coercion."

GLADSTONE ADVISED TO HOLD ON.

LONDON, July 13.—Labouchere writes to the Daily News urging Gladstone not to resign, on the ground that he has a majority on everything [illegible] the Irish question, and that the unionists are not likely to support a general vote of want of confidence in him.

OUTRAGES BY MOONLIGHTERS? ORANGEMEN.

DUBLIN, July 13.—An Orange lodge in Coalisland, a small village in County Tyrone four miles from [illegible], was attacked last night by a number of men belonging to the national league. The [illegible] party were armed with rifles and kept up a fire for two hours on the lodge, the police being powerless to interfere.

Armed moonlighters last night attacked and took possession of two houses in Freemount and Kanturk, County Cork. They then entered and severely beat the inmates.

RIOT AT BELFAST.

BELFAST, July 13.—Serious rioting broke out this evening between Catholics and Protestants. Many stones were thrown and revolvers were freely used. The military was called out to restore order. Many persons were injured and sent to hospitals.

LONDON, July 13.—Polling in the Newmarket division of Cambridgeshire had to be postponed to-day in consequence of rioting. Several policemen were hurt during the disturbance.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

Their Parade at Toronto One of the Grandest Sights in the City's History

TORONTO, Ont, July 13.—One of the grandest sights ever witnessed in Toronto was the parade of uniformed Knights of Pythias this afternoon. They mustered on Clarence square about 4 P M, where an immense crowd had assembled, and the column, headed by Maj Gen Carnahan and Adj Gen Newell and a brilliant staff, all mounted, began its grand march through the streets. There were divisions from as far as Florida and New Orleans, and it is estimated that between 5000 and 6000 knights were in line. All along the route the streets were packed with spectators and the windows of dwellings and stores were crowded. It was a perfect ovation from start to finish.

At Queen's park a halt was made for fifteen minutes and here 10,000 persons had congregated. The well executed movements of the several divisions while marching were received with repeated cheers. The column occupied half an hour passing a given point. Several prominent members of the order say it was the grandest parade [illegible] knights has ever taken part in.

This forenoon Supreme [illegible] Dr [illegible] at Home [illegible] Knights and prominent citizens present.

To-night a public reception was held in the Mutual street rink, at which addresses of welcome were made in behalf of the city and province of Ontario. Responses were made by Supreme Chancellor Van Valkenburg and others. To-night steamers took the knights on a moonlight excursion around the island. After a sail the knights all landed on the island, where they witnessed a grand display of fireworks from a barge anchored in the bay.

The supreme lodge has been in session all day. A draft of a ritual for a ladies' rank was presented and referred to a special committee. Other business transacted was of no [illegible]. It is generally conceded that Howard Douglass, supreme vice chancellor, will be the next supreme chancellor. Cincinnati is favored as the place of holding the next biennial session, but the matter has [illegible].

FRANCE.

THE DUKE D'AUMALE [illegible].

PARIS, July 13.—President Grevy has signed a decree for the expulsion of the Duke d'Aumale from France. [illegible] the Duke de Chartres [illegible] the Duke d'Aumale in [illegible] the question of the republic's right to expel him, the chamber [illegible] will take action [illegible] the confiscation of all property in France belonging to the Orleans family.

The French cabinet agreed to the decree expelling the Duc d'Aumale from France.

A VOTE OF CONFIDENCE.

PARIS, July 13.—The decision to expel the Duc d'Aumale was announced in the chamber of deputies by M Goblet, minister of public instruction. M [illegible] said that the government's action was approved by the country and restored confidence in the ministry. The chamber by a vote of [illegible] to [illegible] adopted a vote of confidence in the cabinet.

AN AMERICAN PLEASURE YACHT SEIZED.

MONTREAL, July 13.—Sir Roderick Cameron, a well known merchant of New York, left here yesterday for Ottawa to see the minister of customs regarding the seizure of his pleasure yacht at Rimouski. Sir Roderick has a fishing estate at Tadousac, Quebec, where he passes several months every summer fishing and hunting. He arrived there a few days ago in company with a number of New York friends and sent his yacht around by sea in charge of the captain. On the voyage she encountered some heavy weather, losing her jib boom and springing her mast, and she was forced to put into Rimouski for repairs. Here [illegible] seized by customs authorities on the ground that she had infringed the customs regulations because she had not the necessary papers.

It appears the captain had in his possession the usual license issued to yachts by the United States secretary of state, which entitles them to enter and leave any British port without reporting to a custom house, but he failed to show his papers and a fine of $400 was imposed on him. The customs officials also seized a quantity of liquors, crackers and other articles which were being conveyed for the use of the house at Tadousac. These were subsequently released on the payment of $[illegible] to reimburse the officer for his trouble in making the seizure.

Sir Roderick has refused to pay the fine of $400. George W Stephens, member from Montreal, accompanied Sir Roderick to protest against the seizure, which he says was illegal and arbitrary.

A VERY NARROW ESCAPE.

OTTAWA, July 13.—A train carrying 600 Orange excursionists from Kingston on the Grand Trunk after passing Cumberland this morning ran into an obstruction placed on the track on a sharp curve on an embankment fifty feet high with the river at the bottom. The train was not derailed as the engineer saw the obstruction in time to check speed somewhat. It was, however, a narrow escape. Orangemen claim it was the work of their enemies.

ENGLAND.

INTERNATIONAL CHESS TOURNAMENT.

NEW YORK, July 13.—Cable advices from London report that the first round in the international tournament of the British chess association yesterday resulted in a brilliant victory for the American players, who each won a game, with the exception of Mason, who drew with Taubenhaus, and Capt Mackenzie, who was paired with another American player, Mortimer, to whom he lost his game. Following is the result of the first pairing: Bird won of Burn, Irregular opening; Pollock [illegible] Blackburne, French defense; Lipschutz won [illegible] Gunsberg, Ruy Lopez; Hanham won of [illegible], Irregular; Mortimer won of Mackenzie; Mason drew with Taubenhaus; Zukertort had no [illegible].

The Herald's correspondent says that [illegible] defeat of Blackburne, the English champion, was a surprise to every one, the latter being [illegible] in French defense. Mason's game with Taubenhaus, the French champion, was stubbornly contested, resulting in a draw. Mortimer was in one of his brilliant moods. Lipschutz didn't look well after his ocean trip and it looked at one time as if his game with Gunsberg, who has won all recent tournaments, was badly compromised, but he gathered himself together and scored a brilliant victory.

A FAMOUS CASTLE BURNED.

NEW YORK, July 13.—The Sun's London cable says: The famous castle of Wartenburg at Wartenburg, in Prussian Silesia, the residence of Prince Gustav Von Courland, was entirely destroyed by fire last night. Prince Gustave and his wife Princess Adeale were in bed when the fire broke out and narrowly escaped with their lives. The castle contained many famous paintings and valuable works of art, all of which were destroyed. The fire was caused by an attack by a pet dog belonging to the princess upon a manservant who was carrying a lighted paraffine lamp. The dog bit the man, who dropped the lamp. The lamp exploded and the castle was burned.

The "Herald's" Arctic Man Arrested for Theft.

END OF THE IOWA IMPEACHMENT.

Large Purchase of Hops in California—Death from Cigarette Smoking—Geronimo again Heading towards Arizona

NEW YORK, July 13.—The sole companion of Col. Gilder on his journey toward the North pole is William Griffiths, son of a billiard table manufacturer. Griffiths is a young man of no Arctic experience but of approved grit and muscle. He has done good pedestrian work in Europe and Africa and contributes $1000 to the present expedition. Col Gilder is a brother of Richard Watson Gilder, editor of the Century Magazine.

HE IS ARRESTED.

NEW YORK, July 13.—Col Wm H Gilder, who intended to leave New York this afternoon and join the whaling schooner Eva at New London, Conn., and proceed on her to the coast of Greenland and afterward undertake to find the north pole, did not leave New York, as he was detained on a charge of stealing a $1000 bond of the Manhattan elevated railway company. Sally Adams, a professional swimmer, was the complainant. She said that she gave Gilder the bond in February '86, asking him at the same time to find out if it was good or not, and had since been unable to get possession of it. Col. Gilder was arrested and taken to the Jefferson market police court. He pleaded not guilty. He stated that Miss Adams had asked him to take care of the bond. He had it examined by a friend who told him that it was not good and he told Miss Adams so. He then left it with Bondy, McClelland & Co on Broadway. Soon after the colonel sailed for China. Before sailing he had borrowed money from Bondy, McClelland & Co. He presumed that the bond would remain in their custody, but while he was away the firm sold it. He admitted that he never made restitution for the bond but claimed that he had been unable to see plaintiff since May 18th, although he had made several efforts to do so. He acknowledged that he owed plaintiff the amount of the bond but asserted that there was no criminal intent on his part to defraud her of the bond or its value.

The police justice held him in $1500 bonds for trial. He did not secure bail to-night. He found that it was not an easy matter for a man who is on the point of starting for the north pole to get bonds in $1500. The colonel caused a cablegram to be sent to James Gordon Bennett setting forth the facts and asking what should be done. An answer is expected to-morrow.

The prisoner claims that he has given Miss Adams several thousand dollars since she gave him the bond, and rumor has it that the lady, who is fond of Gilder, has had him arrested to prevent him going away.

THE TANNERS STRIKE.

BOSTON, July 13.—A lockout in the tannery and curing shops at Peabody and Salem was inaugurated this morning. In accordance with a vote of the Knights of Labor at their meeting last evening the men refused to work in the shops where the notice of the executive committee had been posted. This effects not only the tanners but the curriers. There are fifty four tanneries and they employ on an average twenty tanners. The tanners' strike includes journeymen, teamsters and others. There are only three places, as far as known, where notice was not posted. The men all went to the shops this morning. The bosses were all present. In the shops where they had been in the habit of beginning work at 6 o'clock, they were refused admission, and in the others they found notices posted and left. The result is that over 4000 men are now idle. Both sides are firm.

The strike of Salem and Lynn, Mass., tanners is for a reduction of the working time to fifty nine hours a week. Yesterday the manufacturers held a meeting and soon afterward a notice was posted in the shops as follows: "Hereafter we shall employ only such men as will bargain individually with us and agree to take no part in any strike whatever. All men desiring so to be employed by us will be here on Tuesday morning, July 13, at the usual hour of opening the factory. We are determined to stand by all the men who do so, and are also determined to run our business without dictation."

END OF AN IMPEACHMENT.

DES MOINES, Ia, July 13.—The entire day was spent in taking a final vote on the impeachment of Auditor Brown. There were thirty counts to the indictment and the roll of the entire senate was called on each. The votes for conviction ranged from one to fifteen on the different counts. Three times there were fifteen senators who voted guilty. They were on the articles charging Brown with refusing to give up his office when suspended by the governor and continuing to act as auditor and for his approval of Actuary Vail's charges for examination of Iowa insurance companies. Altogether twenty-one different persons voted for conviction. Of these thirteen were republicans and eight were democrats. There not being two thirds of the senators voting guilty, Brown was declared acquitted and will probably be reinstated to-morrow. The trial has lasted eight weeks and cost about $30,000.

PARNELLITES WILL BE THERE.

LINCOLN, Neb, July 13.—Some malicious meddlers in Chicago and New York, in order to lessen the interest in the forthcoming Irish national league convention, pretended to have received information by cable from Ireland that the delegation from parliament promised in the cable message which Mr Harrington M P on behalf of Mr Parnell sent to President Egan of the Irish national league some days ago [illegible]. Mr Egan cabled Mr Harrington this morning and received promptly the following reply:

DUBLIN, July 13, 1886.

PORTLAND WEDNESDAY, JULY 14 1886

THE BAR SERVICE REPORT

THE OREGONIAN'S criticism of the report respecting pilotage and towage at the entrance to the Columbia river, made to the board of trade on Monday evening by a special committee is that it is "partial, ill-considered and prejudiced." The terms are repeated because they have been misinterpreted and challenged The report is partial because it reviews but one feature of a general situation. It is ill considered because by its tone and its silence respecting more favorable circumstances of the case it is calculated to damage the reputation of our port Its prejudice is shown by its unfairness in these particulars. In dealing with this question the committee should have considered all the circumstances and features of the case, and in reporting upon it they should have presented the situation fairly and completely The good as well as the bad should have been set forth. But acting on another principle, the committee searched out all the scandals that could be found, set forth in severe terms their conclusions upon an examination of these scandals, and ignored altogether the general and important fact that the service in nineteen instances out of twenty is prompt and reasonably cheap. Not even did this committee make note of the fact that the charges for bar service have been reduced materially, a matter which could not have escaped attention. Such a report, bearing an official character, will be understood, when read abroad, to represent not exceptional, rare and long past instances, but general and prevailing conditions, and since it is the habit of commercial bodies in dealing with their own localities to put the best foot foremost, the impression will be magnified as against us. It will be believed by ship-owners not familiar with the conditions here, upon reading the report in question, that every ship which enters the Columbia river suffers all the severities enumerated—and this is a fair assumption in the absence of further information. We have reason to believe that the main fault in this matter lies with the chairman of the committee, a man who should not have been put in a position where his narrowness, prejudice and presumption could find expression in a form injurious to great public interests.

The circumstances of our commerce, during the past few years, disprove, in the most positive way, the conclusions of the report above referred to. Despite the "positive and uniform" evidence that "frequent and various discrimination" is practiced on the bar, and the conclusion that "the discrimination spoken of has already seriously prejudiced our port in the minds of many shipowners," despite all this, it grows easier year by year to secure ships for the Columbia river. The difference between the San Francisco and Portland charter rates, long maintained at ten shillings and upwards, has in three years been reduced to five shillings. In the light of this fact, do not the statements above appear absurd? We do not question the general fact set forth in the report that under the present system there are certain abuses. We have no wish to shield Captain Flavel, or anybody else, much less to perpetuate a bad system but we do not want a partial report representing the worst features of the situation and ignoring the best features to go forth to the injury of our port and state.

THE HERO OF THE MONITOR

The death of Rear Admiral John L Worden recalls the famous fight between the Monitor and the Merrimac, of which Worden was the hero. It is a remarkable fact that the South was quicker than the North to comprehend at the outset of the war the importance of the ironclad, the ram and the torpedo in naval warfare. Their ports were blockaded they were not a people of mechanical or manufacturing skill, they had few iron foundries, few skilled workmen, and yet they made a wonderfully vigorous and effective use of their limited resources. The exploits of the Merrimac in Hampton Roads, of the Tennessee in Mobile bay, of the ram Arkansas in the Mississippi and the Albemarle on the Roanoke river are proof of their aptitude in the construction of formidable ironclads, while the sinking of a number of our ironclads and gunboats proves the skill of their torpedo service

The Confederates preceded our government at least three months in preparation of ironclads. They took the new frigate Merrimac, captured with the Norfolk navy yard, cut it down nearly to the water's edge, plated its sides heavily with iron and covered it over with a bomb proof in shape of a sloping roof made of railroad iron. This ironclad was armed with eight eleven-inch guns and two 100-pounders, and was furnished with a sharp steel prow, to be used as a ram. The Confederates had so few workmen that they were nine months completing this vessel. The Federal congress did not authorize the construction of Ericsson's turretted ironclad Monitor until the Merrimac had been six months in course of construction It was built in 100 days, was delivered to the government March [illegible], [illegible]2 started from New York for Hampton Roads the next day under the command of Lieutenant Worden, and arrived after a perilously stormy passage at 10 P M, March [illegible]

Worden was prompt [illegible] he found that the Merrimac had anticipated his arrival had that very afternoon sunk the fine frigate Cumberland had captured and burned the frigate Congress, had crippled the frigate Minnesota, which had grounded under the range of the Merrimac's guns when [illegible] the relief of the Congress and the [illegible] The St. Lawrence, another [illegible] frigate was also aground and helpless Worden with the vessel was armed with but two [illegible] guns, his crew of sixty men had been without food or sleep in the stormy passage from New York he found our naval force and land force utterly discouraged and almost panic stricken at the prospect. The Merrimac had [illegible] without the slightest injury the broadsides of the Congress and the Cumberland and our land batteries had destroyed the ships, killing and drowning over 100 men, and returned at dark [illegible] of her capacity to destroy the Minnesota and St Lawrence at her leisure the next day, and defying the [illegible] of Fort Monroe could have steamed up to Baltimore, Philadelphia, Washington, New York, and shelled them to destruction

Next morning the Merrimac appeared and began to batter the Minnesota. The little Monitor was all that saved the great frigate from the fate of the Cumberland, for the Minnesota's tremendous broadside fire at close range produced no effect on the Merrimac Worden opened fire on the Merrimac standing himself in the pilot house and directing the fire of his guns. The Merrimac, finding the Monitor impenetrable to her shot, tried to run down her little enemy, but only injured her hull in the attempt and received a shot that broke the shutter to one of her portholes, wounded her captain, (Buchanan) and six men and started a leak which compelled her to retreat to Norfolk for repairs She never faced the Monitor again, and, when Norfolk navy yard was captured, was blown up by the Confederates, as she drew too much water to escape up the James river to the shelter of Fort Darling Just at the close of the engagement a shell from the Merrimac struck the pilot house and exploded, driving particles of iron and cement into the eyes of Lieut Worden, utterly destroying the sight of one eye and injuring the other so badly that he was in the hospital several months before he recovered sufficiently to resume command. The skill and gallantry with which he behaved in the fight so commanded the admiration of his men that among Worden's most precious treasures was an exceedingly illiterate letter of sympathy and regard prepared and sent to him by his crew when he was in hospital, telling him in quaint, sailor language how proud they would be to see him back again in command.

Worden did good service afterwards in command of the Montauk before Charleston, but he has never possessed good health since that day of the naval fight in Hampton Roads. He has always suffered a great deal with his injured eyes, and at the time of his death was on the retired list.

Worden was born at Mount Pleasant, N Y, March 12, 1818, and entered the navy in 1834. In April, 1861, he was sent with confidential dispatches to the frigate Sabine, at Pensacola. He committed his dispatches to memory and destroyed them, a prudent act, as he found the Confederates under Bragg at Pensacola. Bragg took him prisoner, but released him and let him visit the Sabine. On his return he was again arrested near Montgomery and confined in a rebel jail until the next November.

If the Confederates had been free to build twenty such powerful ironclads in 1861 as the Merrimac, the Tennessee, the Arkansas, the Albemarle, and the Atlanta, instead of only being able to build about one a year, the blockade of their ports by our wooden ships would have been broken, and our wooden walls would have been as powerless as paper to resist attack. As late as August, 1864, the single rebel ironclad Tennessee, under command of the Merrimac's old captain, Buchanan, fought the whole of Farragut's fleet, including two monitors, for an hour or more and inflicted fearful destruction by her fire before she surrendered In May, 1864, the rebel ram Albemarle pounded our wooden fleet off the mouth of Roanoke river into fragments, and had the Confederates been able to finish a dozen Merrimacs instead of one in March, 1862, we would have been at their mercy on the seacoast, and on the Mississippi. New Orleans could not have been taken, nor Mobile, the blockade could not have been maintained an hour

The Confederates began to build ironclads in June, 1861, while our first ironclad was not begun until about December 1, 1861, and was when completed, a day too late to save the Cumberland and the Congress. The Confederates were the quickest in apprehension, the promptest in action in the matter of reformed or rather revolutionized naval warfare, had they possessed our shipyards, skilled mechanics, iron foundries, men and money, every important river and harbor on the coast would have been filled with an ironclad fleet that would have brushed away our blockaders as though they had been a fleet of feeble, unarmed fishing boats They anticipated us in action by six months time, under equal circumstances this lead would have made our blockade worthless within three months after Sumter It is a mistake to underrate and belittle the Southern mind It is not genius for philosophy, nor very likely for the highest statesmanship, but it emphatically is bright and energetic for practical ends. War is very practical business. Inferior to us in resources the Southern man was a brave, intelligent and energetic soldier, and in the prompt apprehension of the new and then unknown factor of armored ships in naval warfare the South was a day ahead of us, as the rotting timbers of the sunken Cumberland and Congress attest. When we consider that slavery was not stimulating to energy or inventive skill, the practical ability and mechanical talent of the South was wonderful during the rebellion, working as she did with great natural and artificial disadvantages The same qualities of quick apprehension and energy in the prosecution of practical results fit them for that kind of politics that aims without scruple at results rather than theoretical statesmanship the kind of statesmanship that is always for the old flag when it implies and covers a large appropriation

Receipts of the Suez canal during the last fiscal year were $1[illegible], the expenses, $6,204,235, or a fraction less than 48 per cent. The net profits were $6,80[illegible], or nearly eight per cent on the entire capital That income is from a toll business, which, in the nature of things, is much larger upon the Suez than it could be for many years upon the Panama canal Still, assuming that the Panama canal might at once, upon completion, enjoy as large a patronage as the Suez canal now has after many years, and it is not difficult to see that the return upon the Panama investment would be ridiculously meager. The most moderate estimates place the cost of the completed canal at $600,000,000 earnings of $6,805,754 per year would yield to the shareholders about 1 per cent. on their investment. Surely not an encouraging outlook

Is There a Cure for Consumption?

We answer unreservedly yes If the patient commences in time the use of Dr Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" and exercises proper care. If allowed to run its course too long all medicine is powerless to stay it Dr Pierce never deceives a patient by holding out a false hope for the sake of pecuniary gain The "Golden Medical Discovery" has cured thousands of patients when nothing else seemed to avail Your druggist has it Send two stamps for Dr Pierce's complete treatise on consumption with numerous testimonials Address World's Dispensary Medical association Buffalo N Y

The Sins of the Fathers.

New York Tribune

If Henry Ward Beecher had not gone counter to his life long principles by turning democrat the veracity of his son Herbert would not now be under consideration by a senate committee The sins of the fathers etc.

DEMOCRATIC ESTIMATES OF BLAINE.

Washington Letter in New York World (Dem)

A simple private citizen of the state of Maine his utterances attract now more attention than would those of any official at Washington except perhaps the president Certainly no member of the cabinet has anything like his command upon the popular attention No member of the senate or of the house is so great an object of interest. If Mr Blaine were to revisit Washington to-day I am certain his every movement at the capital would be as carefully scrutinized and noted as are Mr Cleveland's acts This enormous interest in Mr Blaine is a fact carefully noted by the politicians

One of the peculiar things to be noted in this connection is the unceasing activity of Mr Blaine's enemies Now that he is in private life he is still as much a target almost as if he were in public place If the weather happens to be bad in Maine the condition of affairs is credited to the malign influence of Mr Blaine An anti Blaine man never reasons He just hates and rates on with an energy and abandon that knows no rest. The abuse of Mr Blaine with the anti Blaine people has descended to a rub-a-dub It has gotten beyond reason to the realm of mere unreasoning noise

Those who do not admire Mr Blaine's politics and who do not think he would make a good president need not feel obliged to continue to throw mud at one of the most interesting men in politics. There is so little in politics that is of interest, that every one should pray for long life to citizen Blaine whose mere presence among the living gives a filip to the consideration of every possible political speculation

The World's correspondent Mr T C Crawford is well known at Washington and throughout the country Proceeding with his letter, he quotes from the remarks of a veteran democrat these notable observations

The day of talking scandal about Blaine is in the past. Everything that can be said about him has been said, while to day he has a greater individual hold upon the people than any man in the country There is no use in talking about the dead matters of the last campaign The Pan Electric statesmen have supplied new issues The party that supports an administration that carries Attorney General Garland and his staff of Pan Electric associates need not ask the people to help it rebuke Blaine's candidacy

Mr. Crawford's own view, derived from his intercourse with all sorts and sizes of democratic statesmen in Washington as to the theme which is evidently uppermost and livest at the national capital, is that the president's course is the very one to help Mr Blaine's prospects as a republican candidate The negative course of the administration leaves the opposition party nothing to do. There are no aggressions to resist The record of republican misdoing is left undisturbed. On account of this lack of active discussion there is no chance for the development of new republican leaders Mr Blaine to-day is the chief of his party, and will undoubtedly so remain until the next republican campaign.

AS TO THE LAND GRANTS.

Pendleton East Oregonian

In the course of Senator Dolph's recent speech on the Northern Pacific forfeiture bill, he laid down the law thus

Where there is a grant upon condition precedent the condition must be performed before the grant takes effect. Where there is a grant upon condition subsequent, the grant takes effect at once In this case the grant was a grant in presenti, and the condition was a condition subsequent In such a case if the condition is not performed the grantor may enter for a breach of condition and resume the estate It has been the law for two hundred years that time in such a case is not the essence of the contract, and this grant between the government and the company is a contract. * * * I believe that as to the sections of the road which have been constructed examined and accepted in accordance with the law though since the time limited within which the road was required to be completed the grant is beyond the power of the grantor to resume it for breach of condition

Senator George of Mississippi and Senator Eustis of Louisiana did not understand the law to be so. The trouble with Dolph and other corporation senators is that they insist upon measuring these thousands of bushels involved in the public measure of a technical legal principle which it is true is of general application as between [illegible] If the 200-year old rule of law is [illegible] is not of the essence of the contract in a case of this sort then it is quite time the rusted bands of the old legal principle were broken and U S senators and supreme court judges allowed their ideas to expand sufficiently to grasp the evident fact that in this case time is of the essence of the contract [illegible] the very vital part of the whole [illegible] Settlers were induced to go over thirty years [illegible] the unsettled plains and into the [illegible] of states and territories between Lake Superior and [illegible] get south why Because the road was to be built within a certain time and they so [illegible] Not only so but they were deprived of the odd numbered sections and allowed to settle upon the even numbered sections for which they were required to pay double price why Why these restrictions and this double charge Because claims would be made more valuable by the building of the road But people would not undergo those disadvantages and hardships unless they expected and had reason to expect—the building of the road within a reasonable time within such time as they could live to see and reap the rewards for their investment within the time limited, limited in the grant Attempting to make out an indefeasible title for the railroad company on the ground of a strict application of the legal principle that in the case of an estate to be granted on a condition subsequent time is not of the essence of the contract, is like attempting to build a palace on a pebble or to cover a township with a napkin

EDITORIAL BRIEFS.

Louisville Courier Journal If the farmers of Kentucky want to be wealthy they should plant pig iron

Indianapolis Journal The flippant sneering insulting and brutal vetoes of President Cleveland will return to plague their inventor

Washington Post The true object of the oleomargarine bill is simply to foster the interest of one class of producers at the expense of another

Atlanta (Ga) Constitution In Atlanta every body is waiting for somebody else to violate the prohibition law. This leaves the whole matter where it ought to be

New York World The real question involved in this pan-electric business is one of example—one of the lowering or the elevation of the standard of public honor

Washington Republican The reform preached by the democratic party is about as much like the genuine article as Mormonism is like orthodox Christianity

Philadelphia Press The Iowa democrats have declared against prohibition Everybody has known that they were against it but nobody supposed they had the nerve to say so

This Accounts for It.

Texas Siftings

One of my ancestors won a battle during the Crusades by his skill in handling artillery said the [illegible] my dear [illegible] this friend [illegible] at the time of the crusades gunpowder had not yet been discovered "I know that as well as you do, and so did my ancestor" "How did he win the battle then?" "He brought his artillery to bear on the Saracens and the stupid fools seeing the guns supposed that powder had at last been discovered and fled in dismay

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

THROWN OUT OF COURT —The time of the police court yesterday was taken up in examining [illegible] the particulars of a case of abusive language, in which Mrs. Regall posed as defendant and Mrs G. H. Webber as complaining witness. The parties to the transaction are next-door neighbors and reside at Sixth and Madison streets. It appears that last Sunday Mrs Regall sat on her porch reading a newspaper article headed "A Wayward Woman." On finishing it she remarked to her liege lord who was present, how happy she was that she had a husband who remained at home when not occupied with business. Mrs Webber who was on the adjoining porch overheard the remark and picked [illegible] The result was a war of words between the parties. Mrs Webber testified that Mrs Regall spoke of her in very uncomplimentary terms. The Mrs Regall denied and otherwise stated that when accosted by Mrs Webber she simply retorted and in order to avoid having any trouble went into the house with her husband, and to further avoid a controversy she and her husband immediately afterwards went out for a walk. Judge Dement after hearing all the evidence dismissed the case against the accused with a warning to all the parties not to come before him again. He remarked that several cases of this kind had come before him since he had been on the bench and the dismissal of them with a warning not to bring their petty quarrels again into court had been found to work well. The Regal-Webber rumpus was later packed down to Justice Bushwiler. He also got tired of hearing it and threw it out of court. The day of running courts on petty neighborhood quarrels is evidently over and a very good thing it is.

PRESERVE PROSPECTS —Prospects seem to indicate rather a poor peach crop in this state as well as in California. Some fine large peaches from along the Columbia sold readily yesterday at retail for 1½ cents per pound. Other Oregon peaches were selling for five cents wholesale. It is rather early yet to base any calculation on the crop but one thing is certain, that there never are as many peaches raised here as can be sold for a good paying price. Huckleberries are beginning to come in. They are sold at fifty to sixty cents per gallon as yet but it is said that there will be plenty of them and it is to be hoped that they will soon be down to thirty or forty cents per gallon. The huckleberry is a great favorite wherever known and is well adapted for "putting up" in any style. If one cannot get a supply of peaches and huckleberries he must just fall back on plums prunes and pears of which there is sure to be enough for canning and preserving. The latter fruits will be found very palatable in winter and one who has a storeroom full of them has no kick coming

WELL GROWN SHAD — Columbia river shad have been very scarce this season in Portland at all events. A small box was received at this office last evening from Megler & Wright of the Occident hotel. One of the fish was a beauty, weighing about four pounds and in splendid condition reminding one of a regular Bay of Fundy shad. None have been seen here before weighing more than two pounds. The sight of this big fellow gives assurance that the Columbia will eventually supply shad as large as can be found anywhere. By next year they will probably have attained a weight of six pounds which is a very fair weight for a shad. It seems to take the shad longer to attain its full growth than it does the salmon probably because it has to grow more bones. In a few years when the young shad placed in the Willamette this season and last have arrived at maturity, the shad fishery of the Columbia will rival its salmon fisheries

GRAND MEETING OF ODD FELLOWS —The meeting of the sovereign grand lodge I O O F which takes place at Boston on the 20th of September next will be the grandest gathering of Odd Fellows held since the establishment of the order. Circulars sent out to representatives here state that citizens of Boston are sparing no pains or expense to make this meeting the grandest affair ever known to any fraternity they having already raised over $100 000 with which to entertain their guests and that every Odd Fellow especially those from the Western states will be most heartily welcomed. The military branch of the order the Patriarchs Militant will for the first time participate and it is expected that 10,000 chevaliers and 10 000 subordinate members will be in the line of parade. Reduced rates and special trains have been provided for and the pleasure and comfort of Odd Fellows and their families will be carefully looked after.

GRAND LODGE A O U W —The grand lodge of A O U W for Oregon Washington territory and British Columbia meets at Masonic hall in this city at 10 o clock this forenoon. A large number of delegates will be present representing lodges from Southern Oregon Eastern Washington and away up in British Columbia. For these delegates to travel such long distances is a great expense to the lodges and it is expected that an effort will be made to have Oregon set apart and have a grand lodge of its own. The order numbers some 2700 members in this state. In Washington there are about 1300 yet 75 per cent. of the deaths in the order during the past year have been in Washington and British Columbia. The order is in a flourishing condition throughout the country and paid out about $ 500 000 in benefits. The average assessment during the past year has been about $18 in this jurisdiction and about $17 50 for the whole country

CHURCH ALLIANCE ORGANIZED —At a combined meeting of the Presbyterian churches of this city held some days ago, it was decided to form and organize an alliance of all the churches in Portland and its vicinity and Rev A J Lindsley E Quackenbush, Hon H W Corbett Wm M Ladd, Thomas N Strong, Prof R K Warren A W Stowell Wm Wadhams, Wm Honeyman Alfred S Frank P Y Morey Dr O P S Plummer Rev Robert J Laughlin A. Driver Rev D O Ghomely James R Ewing Penumbra Kelly Rev W O Forbes M F Thompson Rev Thomas Loyd and Jacob Rhodes were elected directors. These gentlemen are to meet to-day at the office of Thomas N Strong, room 12 Labbe s building at 11 A M, to complete their organization at which time the work of the alliance will be taken in hand

ARRESTED ON SUSPICION —It appears as if the matter of drugging the ship carpenter Kalosuba to death is not to be allowed to pass without an effort being made to bring the guilty parties to punishment. Dan Moran who was drinking deeply with the carpenter all the day before his death has been in jail ever since the inquest ostensibly on a charge of assault and battery but in reality because he is believed to know who administered the fatal drug. Jas Kelly the saloon keeper at whose place the unfortunate victim took his last drink, was arrested in his bed at 2 o clock yesterday morning and is now in the city jail. There were doubtless several persons implicated in drugging the man and one or more of them will probably be willing to tell what he knows and so bring the most guilty one to justice.

RUFFIAN ARRESTED —Monday night Wm McMillan a young fellow about 20 years of age who lives at Thirteenth and O streets, struck a boy named Renicke splitting his ear. The assault was unprovoked and occurred on the Ninth street bridge. Yesterday afternoon McMillan was arrested at Albina by policemen Emig and Holsapple on a charge of assault and battery. The police say McMillan was recently arrested for drunkenness when he gave the name of Wm Mahone and that only a few evenings since he broke all the windows in a vacant house on O street between Twelfth and Thirteenth belonging to Mr Sweeny simply because he had no other diversion to occupy his mind. He will probable have time now for silent contemplation

CHARTERED FOR CHINA —The British bark Director which has been in this port nearly a year and in trouble the greater part of that time has been chartered by the Shanghai Dock company to carry a load of lumber to Shanghai. She will go [illegible] Capt Bogart will probably be [illegible] as what with [illegible] sundry kinds and a couple [illegible] struggles with typhoid fever his time [illegible] passed as pleasant [illegible] and he will hardly carry away pleasant memories of [illegible] harbor

INDICTED AND ARRAIGNED. The grand jury has returned three indictments against [illegible] Spear L. E. Atkins W J Cook L F Becket and John Doe true name unknown. These are the Merchant [illegible] fellows who were giving [illegible] watches $20 pieces and so forth. They are indicted jointly for setting up and conducting a lottery which according to legal [illegible] contrary to the statutes in such case made and provided. The accused were arraigned before Judge Stearns yesterday and will be called upon to-day to plead

SALOONKEEPER ASSAULTED —John Neill was arrested last night and taken to the city jail for assaulting James Riley the saloonkeeper at Second and C streets with a knife. After committing the assault Neill ran out of the place and endeavored to make his escape but policeman Belcher who appeared on the scene in response to the blowing of a police whistle quickly overhauled him. Neill is evidently one of those fellows who are on the cut and shoot—cut out of the back door and shoot down the alley

PLEASANT EXCURSION ONE WEEK FROM TO-DAY —The excursion with the steamer Lurline to Astoria and the Gen Miles and Gen Canby to Fort Canby and Ilwaco by the Hall street M E church comes off one week from to-day. The fare to Astoria and return $1 to Ilwaco and Fort Canby and return $1 50. The ride down the river by sunlight and up the river by moonlight will be very pleasant this hot weather. All that can should take in this pleasant excursion

ARGUING THE COFFIN SUIT —The suit of the Coffin heirs against the city of Portland for the possession of the public levee was being argued on a demurrer to the complaint yesterday before Judges Stearns and Shattuck. J C Chapman appeared in behalf of the plaintiffs and A H Tanner for the defendant. The demurrer is on the ground of want of an equity bill in that it fails to [illegible] any valid reason why the property should revert back to the heirs

GRANTED FURTHER TIME —Yesterday W A Scoggin administrator of the estate of Thomas Sherlock, deceased was allowed further time to file an inventory of the property in the county court. The reason of this is that the administrator claims that July 15, 1885 Sherlock conveyed to Dora Schloth and Chris Schloth 160 acres of land in trust and the Schloths neglect and refuse to render any account of the same

PENNSYLVANIANS —The meeting this evening is to be held at Y M C A hall second floor First and Salmon. Mr D Solis Cohen treasurer of the society, will deliver the address and others will have a few remarks to make. The Ohioans and Oregon Natives are invited to attend. As constituted the Pennsylvanians are now on a solid footing

THE FIRST ON THE BEACH —The early hour at which the Telephone s passengers arrive at Ilwaco and the Sea side is a happy surprise and a great convenience to every one. Excursionists are taking the early and fast boat Telephone so as to be the first on the beach. The Telephone will land at East Portland for passengers.

EARLY MORNING FIRE —The fire boat Veto lying at the foot of Jefferson street caught fire from the furnace this morning shortly after 2 o clock and was considerably damaged. Officer Smith turned in the alarm from box 6. The Veto is owned by the Jefferson street ferry company and is insured for $2000 in Munnastos s agency and $2000 in F V Andrews s agency. The fire was discovered by the watchman of the ferry who sounded an alarm by blowing the steam whistle

NEW SUITS —Suit has been commenced in the state circuit court by Henry Meldrum against Thomas F Stephens and T. H Rathdrum to recover a balance due with interest amounting to $1305 51 on a judgment obtained by plaintiff against defendant November 1 1876. Liebes Bros & Co, of San Francisco, sue LeGrand & Brown, the liquor dealers to recover $127 for cigars sold and delivered from the 25th day of February until the 16th of April, 1886

THE EAST SIDE.

A Young Man Injured by a Circular Saw—Haslett and Kranz Held to Answer—Brief Items

The case of Wm Hazlett accused of assault and battery upon Charles Schmidt came up before Justice Bullock at 2 P M yesterday. The evidence being conclusive defendant was fined $25 and costs. He immediately filed notice of appeal and was held in the sum of $100. Subsequent to this trial the cases of Hazlett vs Kranz and Schmidt charged with assault with a dangerous weapon came up for consideration and were by mutual consent tried conjointly. Hazlett and Kranz were each held in the sum of $200 to await the action of the grand jury and Schmidt was discharged. It appearing from the evidence that he was involved in the fracas through no fault of his. J A Campbell appeared for the prosecution and Messrs W B Jolly and A. F Campbell for the defense

A PAINFUL ACCIDENT.

Mr Charles Kadderly was yesterday afternoon the victim of a serious accident which will cripple him for life. About 4 o'clock he drove up to Eggleston s sash and blind factory for the purpose of filling an express order with which he had been entrusted and entering the workshop paused to converse for a minute with a friend who works in the shop. While talking he thoughtlessly leaned forward on the table, when his left arm came in contact with a small circular saw cutting a frightful gash from the elbow diagonally across the arm to the wrist, severing the ulnar nerve and making a cut about eight inches long and an inch deep. The wounded boy was conveyed to the residence of his brother J J Kadderly, where prompt surgical aid was rendered by the Drs Rafferty. By the cutting of the nerve above mentioned the smaller two fingers will be entirely useless hereafter. The saw was imbedded in the table or undoubtedly the arm would have been completely severed

REGIMENTAL BAND ORGANIZED

Among the many changes introduced for the more efficient organization of our local militia and one that must add greatly to the morale of the First regiment as well as be a source of public gratification is the action of the battalion commander as appears from the following order

HDQRS FIRST REG'T SECOND BRIG O S M }
PORTLAND July 13 1886 }

General Order, No 11

I The band formerly known as the Sterling band has been mustered into the service of the state as musicians and will hereafter be known as the First regiment O S M. Band

Future orders will announce the appointment of proper non commissioned officers therein

II The commanding officer of the regiment bespeaks for this promising musical organization the fostering care of the several companies of his command as well as the encouragement of our citizens generally. By order of J K PHILIPS

THE STAGE.

NEW MARKET THEATER —The opening of this house at summer prices on Monday evening failed to receive mention yesterday. The Jolly Pathfinders returned and commenced an engagement at the astonishingly low prices of 15 25 and 35 cents. The theater was well filled. The play was new and much better than the one given by the same company week before last at the regular prices. Six Peas in a Pod has more plot and more good genuine fun than Scraps and the management should have produced it here first. The consequence was they had another large house and a well pleased one too. One of the features of this entertainment is the giving away of a valuable present which is now on exhibition at the New York jewelry store. Remember the prices gallery 15 cents, general admission 25 cents and reserved seats only 35 cents

POLICE COURT

Yesterday in the police court a Chinese woman who calls herself Miss Maudie was fined $25 for vagrancy. She was accused of violating the ordinance governing this offense in several ways one of which was roaming the streets after midnight. She gave as an excuse for this that she went out to get supper. After the evidence in behalf of the prosecution was all in and while Maudie was on the stand Judge Dement inquired of her if she had any witnesses. She promptly replied, "No I didn't hire any." This settled it.

Tim Sullivan was fined $25 for vagrancy and E Pictori a French Mack against whom a like charge is pending, is to have his trial to-day

T J O Brien and Dan Moran who thumped A. Void a sailor were fined $50 each

BORES!

I would sooner have a paper of pins stuck in me than be bored by a hungry clothier, going east, for an order for a suit or some other article. We don't bore any one for suit orders, nor will we take any more suit orders. The reason is, we can give no satisfaction such as we would like to give. We have made hundreds of suits by taking orders, and it's a pretty hard job to make them where the cutter can't see his man, so we are going to 100 CASES NEW GOODS!

These goods (many of them suitable for fall and winter wear) were purchased as clearances in the New York market by Mr Meier at far less than cost of production or importation. With the balance of our mammoth stock we are crowded in every department. Instead of holding over for the fall season for larger profits, we prefer to hold to the policy heretofore followed by us—when we get great inducements as clearances we are prompt to offer them to the trade for quick disposal.

Every article and every line in each department REDUCED WAY DOWN—in many lots at less than cost of production. We cannot enumerate all the Special Bargains we are now offering—during this sale only.

Prices now quoted will positively not be continued after July 25th.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION

The Next Meeting to be Held at Salem Next March.

Very Interesting Session—A Number of Important Topics Intelligently Discussed—Proceedings of the Last Day.

The convention was called to order at 9:05 by Rev. J. W. Webb, of Salem, who conducted the prayer service; topic, "More Laborers." He read from the fourth chapter of John. Remarks were made showing the need of more workers. Mr. Henry Plant spoke of Jesus Christ as viewing the world not as its Creator or sustainer, but as its Redeemer. A clergyman of great repute came from the East to Minneapolis; 2500 young men met to hear him. He had this one chance to speak to those men. He wasted it by talking about denominations instead of Jesus Christ. We, too, have a chance; let us not waste it.

This closed the hour. The temporary president, Mr. E. W. Allen, then ascended the platform, and announced the changes in the programme, which were noted in THE OREGONIAN. He also made a short statement about the former state organization, after which a new organization was effected, and the following officers were elected: President, E. W. Allen, Portland; vice-president, E. C. Holden, Astoria; secretary, W. S. Holt, Portland; state secretary, H. Sheak, Philomath; treasurer, W. M. Ladd, Portland.

Mr. J. K. Gill, who was treasurer of the old state organization, reported he had received $141 25 and paid out $103 25, thus leaving a balance on hand July 13, of $38. These amounts include receipts during the present convention and a portion of the expenses.

It was decided to hold the next state convention on the second Tuesday in March, at Salem. The executive committee was urged to take every means possible to hold conventions in counties not organized and try and perfect organizations.

The hour having arrived Dr. Gilbert took the platform and introduced the subject "Institutes and Normal Classes." There are four bodies by which we advance the work of the Sunday school: 1. Convention; 2. Institute; 3. Normal class, continuing through weeks, instead of days, intended as a training school; 4. Assembly, as the Chautauqua assembly, which is broader than the others and includes them all.

The convention began in 1851 in this country; the institute in 1859; the normal class in 1865 (Dr. Gilbert claims to be the father of the normal class in this country); the assembly in 1874. This is the history of the progress of Sunday school work.

THE INSTITUTE.

It is a meeting held for a few days, with teachers at the head. The necessary elements of an institute are Time, Persons, Programme.

The persons are pastors, officers and teachers. Have committees to go and see these three sets of persons and get them interested. Arrange the preliminaries thoroughly. It pays. Don't slight anybody. After having seen all who ought to be interested, have a preliminary meeting, in which you can enlist people's hearts and insure success.

Fix the time when it will suit everybody. Don't have it collide with the meetings of denominations or college commencements. Get the best place possible; convenient, accessible, pleasant, hospitable, so people will be sure to attend. Dr. Gilbert advised having tickets and charging for them. This secures an audience and secures the finances. Have some one to lead the institute. Get some person or persons who understand Sunday school management, preparation for teaching and skilled in teaching. Such an institute will cost money, and let it be all raised in advance.

The topics to be discussed, aside from those already mentioned are bible lessons, or history, geography, or topics of special importance as samples. Portland ought to have an institute for four or five days this fall. Salem ought to have one.

NORMAL CLASS.

This will probably come out of the institute. It can't well be conducted until there is an institute. It will develop the normal class teachers.

1. Constituents.—Teachers and candidates for teaching.

2. Leaders.—Skilled persons, intelligent, vivacious, of good social qualities, good executive qualities, of deep personal piety, studious.

3. What Exercises?—Hold the class one hour in the evening; issue tickets for an hour beyond which no one can be admitted. Have a course of lessons; twenty is a good number. There are several good guides prepared. These give lessons on the book, the school, the teacher. Take one lesson a week. Begin with devotions—five minutes—all stand. Roll-call by number, each one announcing his own number. Mark the absentees upon the blackboard. Sit. Begin the lesson. Review, take up the lesson, repeat, close promptly at the end of the hour.

The best normal class will be undenominational, for it will make the churches co-operate, will give variety of talent, and make us stronger. But if not possible others can be formed. Make it tend toward the spiritual. Begin with spiritual exercises. Have some consecration services. These will sift out the unworthy. Then keep it spiritual. Look for most skillful persons in the body.

Dr. Gilbert filled his time brimful and gave place to Mr. W. F. Jacobs, who directed our attention to

LAWS OF TEACHING.

1. Law of Adaptation—Instruction must be suited to the needs of the scholar.

2. Co-operation—The teacher and pupil must work together upon the lesson.

3. Definitions—Truth must be presented in clear and precise language.

4. System—The teaching must be arranged in an orderly manner.

5. Illustration—Illustrations should be used when they will make the truth as presented more interesting, more clear or more forcible.

6. Repetition—That which is to be remembered must be frequently reviewed.

7. Variety—Avoid routine plans of teaching and try to have something new in every lesson.

These laws need to be known and acted upon. They are principles in teaching.

The afternoon session opened with singing, after which Mr. Henry Plant took his bible and gave us one of his valuable

BIBLE READINGS.

He spoke from Rom. xii, and the subject was "Consecration." He treated of the Christian's duty to God, to himself, to the church and to the world, for we are in the world and have a blood relation to it. The word says, "Be not conformed," but "Be ye transformed." If you go with the stream you are "conformed." If you go against or across the stream you are transformed. Speaking of the "mercies of God," Mr. Plant said: "Angels, devils, all created beings have enjoyed the goodness of God, but only to man, so far as we know, has God shown mercy. Mercy is favor to the undeserving. Because of this favor shown to men they are besought to present themselves 'living sacrifices' unto God, which is a 'reasonable service.'" We then were given a running analysis of the whole letter to the Romans, showing up its meaning and purpose. Then the first few verses of the xii. of Romans were recited in concert by the convention. Then followed short prayers for Sunday school teachers, pastors, parents whose children are in the Sunday schools, and for the children. Again the opening verses of the chapter were recited and another hymn was sung. Dr. J. A. Worden, who has impressed himself upon the minds of the convention by his forcible addresses, and keen, sharp, wise answers to questions, again opened up the question box. After our experience of his skill in this department we were not disappointed at the answers given. We would like to reproduce some of these answers, but all were so good it is difficult to make a choice. One general fact, however has been insisted upon, not only in answer to questions which bore upon the subject, but also in every topic relating to it, is that the authorities in the churches should have control in the selection of superintendent, of officers and hour of meeting, etc. Dr. Worden ceased his remarks in time to take the 4 o'clock train for Salem, where he will take an important part in the convention to-night.

A short intermission was then given and an opportunity afforded to secure copies of the report of the international convention held in Louisville in 1884.

W. B. Jacobs then took up the next topic—primary class work. This subject he handled in a most satisfactory manner, giving many valuable hints to teachers of these important yet difficult classes. He discussed the various points of time, teacher, the room, helps, management, order, programme, know all about your children, names, homes, faces, absences, lessons learned, contributions offered. Having finished his talk upon the subject Mr. Jacobs asked the convention to increase the amount of money raised last night to $100—only $30 were needed. This money is for the work of the international committee.

W. S. Holt resigned his office as state secretary to which he was elected this morning and nominated Dr. S. J. Barber for the office. The resignation was accepted and Dr. Barber was unanimously elected.

A committee on resolutions consisting of R. J. Wheeler, E. W. Caswell and W. S. Holt, was appointed.

A meeting of officers elect was called for 5 o'clock P. M.

SALEM NOTES.

SALEM, July 13, 1886.

Hon. E. P. McCornack is rusticating at Yaquina bay.

The fathers have commenced operations on the state house.

Mrs. Frank E. Hodgkin is visiting relatives at Goldendale, W. T.

Mrs. Chas. Gabrielson and daughter have started East, where they will spend the summer.

Hon. and Mrs. Edward Hirsch have returned from a somewhat lengthy sojourn at Waterloo.

John Stapleton and Miss Allie Smith were married in this city yesterday, Justice O'Donald officiating.

Mr. R. S. Wallace, president of the Capital national bank, has just returned from a flying trip to San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stevens, of Astoria are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Strang, in South Salem.

Mort Young, the popular conductor on the Albany express train, has gone to Yaquina bay to rusticate for a brief season.

The bond of Mr. Frank C. Baker, state printer elect, has been filed, as by law required, and approved by the governor.

The stone foundation for the front entrance to the state capitol building is well nigh completed, and is a massive affair throughout.

Governor Moody and family and Secretary Earhart and family will start for Yaquina bay to-morrow, where they will remain several days.

Hon. A. F. Wheeler, assistant state treasurer, will go to Portland to-day as a delegate to the grand lodge, representing Protection lodge, No. 2, A. O. U. W.

The Oregon Electric Light company have disposed of their plant and all their interests in this city to Thomas Holman, Esq., who will at once proceed to carry out all their contracts with the state, county, and city. Under the contract with the municipal authorities poles are being erected in various parts of the city for the introduction of the electric light.

Umpqua Hose Co. No. 1 of Roseburg and McMinnville Hook and Ladder Co. No. 1 have forwarded their annual dues to the secretary of the Firemen's Association of Oregon.

The board of delegates of the Salem fire department last evening elected the following officers for the ensuing year: John C. Booth, president; Ed. N. Edes, secretary; and Andy Muir, treasurer.

George Morris, well and favorably known here, who is now at his old home in Ohio, is expected back here in September accompanied by his parents. He will resume his old position as bookkeeper at the White corner.

His Excellency Governor Moody has appointed the following notaries public for the coming two years: D. M. Shanks, E. O. Norton and W. H. H. Waters, of Salem, Frank B. Collins, Summerville, and H. F. Burleigh, of Joseph.

The Nehalem Coal company has filed articles of incorporation in the office of secretary of state, with Albert B. Mason, Charles Haffenden and Francis Sealy as incorporators, and a capital stock of $100,000, and its principal office in Portland.

The financial exhibit of Marion county, as made by Treasurer Giesy, for the year ending July 31, 1886, shows receipts to the general fund of $76,214 13, and expenditures to the amount of $71,802 62, leaving a balance of cash on hand of $3411 51.

Gov. Moody will visit Eastern Oregon about the 20th of this month for the purpose of investigating the construction and character of work done upon the Pine Creek wagon road. The commissioners have invited him to make such investigation at his earliest convenience.

Miss Julia Chamberlin and Mrs. Frankie Jones, of this city, who have been completing their musical education at the New England conservatory of music, at Boston, are expected home during the present month, and will be warmly welcomed by a host of personal friends.

Recent advices report Hon. Benjamin Simpson, formerly of this state, as the republican candidate for congressman from one of the leading Georgia districts. It proved, however, hopelessly democratic, and Mr. Simpson was thus enabled to remain at home and give his undivided attention to the management of his sugar plantations in that state.

The hose team of Eugene Engine Co. No. 1 are making active preparations to attend the firemen's tournament in September, and will soon receive from E. B. Preston & Co., of Chicago, one of the handsomest parade, running and service carts ever sent to this coast, it being trimmed from top to bottom and from front to rear with solid nickel and nickel-plate, with six-foot wheels.

W. G. Westacott, D. D. G. M., accompanied by T. O. Barker, grand representative, F. H. Alliston and W. J. Clarke, of Olive lodge No. 18, I. O. O. F., went to Jefferson on Saturday evening last and installed the following officers of Santiam lodge No. 27: John A. Beard, N. G.; Charles Overby, V. G.; Harry Roland, R. S.; John W. Roland, treasurer; T. M. Holt, permanent secretary.

Cards have been received in this city announcing the marriage at Seattle on Saturday last of Thos. L. Jester, agent for the Oregon and California railroad, at Albany, to Miss Edna I. Vaughan, of the former place. The young couple have many friends in this valley who wish them an abundance of prosperity in their new relations with each other. They will make their future home at Albany.

The Polk county officials have, it seems, simply postponed action on the petition to appropriate $5000 towards the erection of a bridge across the Willamette river at this point, and strong hopes are entertained that at the meeting of their county court in August they will see the error of their ways and do the fair thing. The amount has in the meantime been pledged by twenty or more responsible farmers, and the contract for construction will undoubtedly be closed during the present week and work commenced without delay.

Hon. T. B. Kent, formerly prosecuting attorney of the First judicial district, has announced his intention of contesting the seat of Hon. W. M. Colvig, his newly elected successor, on the ground that he did not qualify on or prior to July 5, 1886. Inasmuch, however, as the secretary of state issued Mr. Colvig's certificate of election on the 3d inst., no serious difficulty is apprehended over Mr. Kent's philanthropic desire to serve the dear people another two years' term.

The new steam fire-engine ordered from the La France Engine Manufacturing company of Elmira, N. Y., is guaranteed to generate thirty pounds of steam in three and one-half minutes and eighty pounds in from five to six minutes, and will weigh 6500 pounds, highly burnished and nickel-plated, and is warranted for a period of ten years. It will cost, delivered here, about $4000, and will arrive here in time for the state firemen's tournament in September and will be entered in the contests.

Considerable excitement was occasioned among Salemites sojourning at Yaquina bay on Saturday by the sudden disappearance of Prof. E. M. Waite, who, contrary to his usual promptness, failed to report at supper time. Parties were at once organized for a complete search, and fears were entertained that his portly form had become food for the fishes. He was finally heard from, however, as being left high and dry upon the beach by an excursion steamer on which he took passage and which started back without him. When finally rescued he was found more scared than hurt, and his entree into camp was a perfect ovation by moonlight.

The final report of the revenue and agricultural department of the Indian government was made May 19, 1886. It gives the amount of wheat exported from India in each of the last three years during the period April 1 to March 31, as 4,793,292 qrs in 1883-4, 3,217,156 qrs in 1884-5, and 4,860,290 qrs in 1885-6. If the export traffic of the next twelve months is affected by the character of this harvest and the character of the harvest has been correctly estimated, the amount of wheat exported should fall considerably. The gross out-turn of this season is estimated to be 9 per cent. less than last year. The estimates are right in representing the crop to have been over a considerable area of the provinces very far from a good one. Until January prospects seemed excellent, but a continuance of damp, cloudy weather during that and the following month induced blight, which did very great damage. The injury was greater in the southern districts, where the crops were generally affected, and the weight of produce per acre was often reduced by half, the grain being shriveled to half its proper size. The crops which suffered most were those on the best lands. The proportion in which soft and hard wheats are grown is nearly equal. The great extension of the area under soft varieties of wheat since the export of wheat to Europe has commenced is one of the most notable facts in the agricultural history of the provinces, and furnishes an unanswerable argument to those who deny that the Indian cultivator can adapt himself to change of circumstances. The chief of the soft varieties is that known as Pissi. In the Hoshangabad settlement report, written twenty years ago, Pissi is mentioned as "a very inferior wheat," grown on a very limited area. But the demand for soft wheat for export to Europe has brought Pissi to the front rank, and it is now by far the largest grown variety in the district, engrossing two-thirds of the total area under wheat.

An Odessa, South Russia, letter, written early in June, contained complaints of serious damage to grain from long continued drought. In all towns and provincial villages special prayers for rain were daily offered in the orthodox and Catholic churches and Jewish synagogues. The five provinces of Kherson, Bessarabia, Podolia, the Taurida and Ekaterinoslav equally suffered. Within the last decade such a dry and hot season had not been known to set in so early. In a telegram dated June 13th the same correspondent says: "The long continued drought and excessive heat as to which I wrote you recently will not be so disastrous as was at one time feared. Abundant rains have fallen throughout the whole of the southern provinces. The destruction of the crops in some districts will, however, entail great loss."

FREIGHTS—The Beechholm arrived seeking. The Shakespeare is also believed to be open, although one report said she came under charter to parties abroad.

WHEAT—All markets quiet but steady. Locally a very limited trade is done.

OATS—Choice milling sold at 45c. Best feed would command 40@42c at the moment, but there is next to nothing offered.

EGGS—Market hardly steady at 25c, although there is no talk of that figure being shaded to-day. Stocks are increasing.

WOOL—Market firm and movement light. Holders appear to be hanging back.

MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, July 13.—Governments were dull and firm. Trading in stocks was almost without character until the afternoon, and the general course of the market seems to indicate that operators are waiting and watching, especially for the outcome of the meeting at Chicago. Most of the selling to-day was for shorts. First prices generally showed declines of ⅛ to ⅜ per cent., but Pacific Mail and Erie was up ⅛ per cent. The opening was dull, and subsequent trading during the morning hours without feature. Prices continued firm, however, showing at noon small advances. The market closed firm. The activity was confined to Lackawanna, St. Paul, Lake Shore, Pacific Mail and Western Union. The result of the day's business is an advance for a great majority of the active shares, ranging from ⅛ to ⅞ per cent. A few declines were made, however, but all for small fractions.

The Mail and Express says: Mining shares were featureless, except an advance in Leadville: Sales: Sierra Nevada 78, Cal & Va $1 45, Leadville 40, Rappahannock 12, Navajo 13, Union Con 72, Iron Silver $2 15, Eureka $2 60, Bulwer $1 80, Bodie $1 35.

MONEY, BONDS AND STOCKS.

NEW YORK, July 13.—Money on call was easy, ranging from 1½@2½ per cent., closing at 2 per cent. asked. Prime paper, 4@5. Sterling exchange, dull at $4 86¾ for sixty days, $4 88 demand.

DRY GOODS.

NEW YORK, July 13.—Exports of domestic cottons for the week have been 4026 packages, and for the expired portion of the year 123,147 packages, against 112,077 the same time last year, 92,241 in 1884, and 37,700 in 1883. The draft upon the supply by the mills is more clearly shown in the total for the fiscal year ended June 30, which amounted to 222,586 packages, against 181,221 last year, 112,775 in 1884, and 166,098 in 1881. The largest previous total, and an increase of nearly 50,000 packages in the last fiscal year. This is an important item, and readily accounts for the deficiency in supplies in many instances. As usual to Tuesday the demand is more quiet, but a good volume of business is in progress. The number of buyers present and buying has increased daily.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

NEW YORK, July 13.—Wheat opened lower: 89c August, 89⅝c September, 90⅝c October. At noon, 89⅛c cash, 88⅝c August, 89⅝c September, 90⅛c October. Closed 87⅞c August, 88⅞c September, 90c October.

In other words, we do not claim that Hood's Sarsaparilla will do impossibilities. We tell you plainly what it has done, and submit proofs from sources of unquestioned reliability, and ask you frankly if you are suffering from any disease or affection caused or promoted by impure blood or low state of the system, to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. Our experience warrants us in assuring you that you will not be disappointed.

"I feel that I am only doing a duty in publicly stating my gratitude for the benefit I have received from the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla. I had a bad eruption on my face for over a year, which has all disappeared after taking three bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla. I take great pleasure in recommending this medicine."—C. H.
